What is the NCPA Innovation Center/CPEPN® Community Pharmacy Fellowship?

It's an intensive year-long training program, similar to an executive MBA program, open to all practicing pharmacists working at a community pharmacy.

Participating pharmacies can specifically hire a fellow or enroll a current employee in the fellowship. The fellows participate in regular discussion groups with the other fellows as well as educational webinars on core topics led by a centralized faculty, including luminaries who instruct on how to implement clinical services. The core curriculum is divided into three groups: practice transformation, management, and patient care. The enrollment period runs March-July.

What our fellows are saying!

"The fellowship program has had a HUGE impact on our practice. It has broadened my horizons as to what is possible and allowed me to learn about other services that help our patients, as well as our profits."

— Hannah Mitchell, fellow,
Banner Drug

"The NCPA/CPEPN fellowship is essentially the leading experts and game changers from community pharmacy practice coming together to share what works and what doesn't. It's definitely unlike anything I've been a part of before. It has been eye-opening for me in many ways and has helped me to more fully understand some of the current issues surrounding community pharmacy, and how best to address them."

— Brandon Beaver, fellow, McBain Family Pharmacy

Sessions will include topics such as implementation science, scaling the appointment-based model, and health care quality measures, in addition to updates on common chronic diseases like diabetes, asthma, and depression.

Virtual mentorship: Fellows will be placed in regular discussion groups as they build services at their pharmacies. These groups will be limited to 8-10 participants and focus on their capstone project.

Capstone project: The pharmacy and fellow will decide on the focus of the capstone project during the first half of the fellowship. At the end of the fellowship year, the fellow will submit it in the form of an instruction manual, which will be added to the fellowship resources for past and future participants to review.

Target applicants: Practicing pharmacists, working at a community pharmacy, who want to advance the practice of community pharmacy.
